husband and our dear father, James Dawson, of 108 Thistlethwaite-street, South Melbourne, who departed this life on the 10th February, 1897, the result of an accident.

He has gone from his loved ones, his family, his wife,
 Whom he willingly toiled for and loved as his life;
 Our sorrow is great, the loss heavy to bear;
 But angels will tend our loved one with care.

His voice is now silent, the heart is now cold,
 The smile and the welcome that met us of old;
 We miss him and mourn him, in silence unseen,
 And dwell on the memory of joys that have been.
 —Inserted by his loving wife, Alice Dawson, and family.

ELDER.—In loving remembrance of Isabel Elder, who died 11th February, 1899.

GILL.—In fond and loving remembrance of Frank, who died at Somerville, 10th February, 1899, aged 25 years and 9 months.

Beloved by all who knew him,
 I do not forget you, I loved you too dearly
 For your memory to fade from my life like a dream;
 My lips need not speak when my heart mourns sincerely,
 And my thoughts often dwell where they seldom are seen.

—Inserted by Annie W. Moncrieff.

HAPPELL.—In loving remembrance of my dear husband, John George Happell, who died on the 11th February, 1898.

To say "he has departed,"
 "His voice," "his face," is gone;
 To feel impatient hearted,
 Yet feel we must bear on.
 —Inserted by his loving wife and family, W.H., S.C., E. H. Happell.

HARBORHT.—In loving remembrance of my dear brother, Ernest, who was accidentally killed on the 11th February, 1899, at Mount Magnet, West Australia.

Far, far away from all your race,
 And those that loved you best,
 No kindred hands will deck the place
 Where you are laid at rest.
 But pitying eyes may sometimes gaze
 Upon that sad and lonely spot;
 And marketh where we all are laid,
 And brother, dear, you're not forgot.
 —L. Munday.

HAYNES.—In sad and loving memory of our dear daughter, Clara Florence, wife of G. Haynes, who fell asleep 10th February, 1896.

Thou art not forgotten, dearest mother,
 Nor ever wilt thou be;
 As long as life and memory last
 We will remember thee.
 Dearest mother, may thy soul rest in peace.

As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

Dearest mother, we have laid thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace;
But thy memory we will cherish
Till we see thy heavenly face.

—Inserted by her husband and children, Anne, Maggie, Mary and Patrick.

Gone from our side, our darling, we miss thee,
Lovingly, dear Fred, thy memory we'll keep;
Never till life ends will we ever forget thee,
Dear to our hearts is the place of thy sleep.

Farewell, our dearest mother, and must we really part?

'Tis sad indeed to lose the one we loved with all our hearts;

To think that you have left us here in sorrow, grief and pain;

To think that in this earthly world we'll never meet again;

To think of you, our only friend, for you were good and kind;

To think that you are dead and gone, and we are left behind;

And as we journey on our life we'll always think of you;

The one we dearly, fondly loved, our mother, good and true.

One by one they wander from us,
And we linger 'mid our tears;
But their sweet and loving memory
Brings us through the lonely years.

Requiescat in Pace.

—Inserted by their loving husband and father, A. Joseph; daughters and sisters, E. J., C. J., A. J.; son and brother, E. J.; daughter-in-law and sister-in-law, M. J.

The willing hand, the genial smile,
That daily bless our lives, erewhile,
Are not forgotten; still they live
In hearts of those who loved them well.
Nor time, nor change can e'er erase
The memory of their loving face;
Their words, their actions, are not dead,
But in our lives are daily read.

—Inserted by their sorrowing parents, brothers and sisters.
